APFJ to celebrate its 30th anniversary year!

In 1987, Butch Conn started the concert series A Place for Jazz as a way for audiences to enjoy the music in a comfortable, acoustically superb setting. In the succeeding years he and his loyal volunteers presented some of the greatest jazz musicians and singers. Since Butch’s death in 2005, the APFJ board and volunteers have carried on his vision. We dedicate the 2017 season to that purpose.

Sept. 8: The Larry Willis Trio
Pianist Larry Willis was born in New York City. After his first year at the Manhattan School of Music he began performing regularly with Jackie McLean. He has performed with a wide range of musicians, including seven years as keyboardist for Blood, Sweat & Tears. He spent several years as pianist for Nat Adderley, as well as Roy Hargrove. He received the Benny Golson Jazz Master Award at Howard University in 2012.

Sept. 22: The Chembo Corniel Quintet
Percussionist Wilson Chembo Corniel is making a return visit to APFJ, this time as leader of his own group. He teaches percussion at SUNY Purchase. He is currently leading his own Latin Jazz quintet. He earned a Grammy nomination in 2009 for “Best Latin Jazz Album.”

Oct. 6: The Jackie Ryan-Shelly Berg Duo
Vocalist Jackie Ryan grew up listening to a unique blend of voices. Her father was of Irish descent, and sang classical pieces around the house in his trained baritone. Her mother was Mexican and crooned Spanish folk songs to her as a child. Pianist Shelly Berg has recorded several albums with his trio. In 2007, he was named dean and professor of Music at the Frost School of Music at the University of Miami. Berg was nominated for a 2015 Grammy Award in the Best Arrangement Instrumental and Vocals category. He is the music director of The Jazz Cruise.

Oct. 20: The Jeff Siegel Sextet
Jeff Siegel was the longtime drummer with pianist Lee Shaw, along with bassist Rich Syracuse. Siegel’s latest CD is “Kino of Xhosa” with Syracuse, bass: Erica Lindsay, sax; Francesca Tanksley, piano; Feya Faku, African Trumpeter; and Fred Berryhill, percussionist.

Nov. 3: The Don Byron Quartet
Don Byron is a gifted performer on clarinet, bass clarinet and saxophone. He has been nominated for a Grammy Award for his bass clarinet solo on “I Want to Be Happy” from the album “Ivy-Divey.” He has worked as a professor at The University at Albany, teaching composition, improvisation, music history, clarinet, and saxophone.

All concerts will be held on Friday nights at 7:30 PM at the Unitarian Universalist Society of Schenectady.

Capital Region Loses Two Veteran Pianists

Longtime area jazz pianist Paul Mastriani died in February at his Schenectady home. He was 81 years old.

A Schenectady native, he composed music for two revues at Schenectady Light Opera Company, “Who Said What to Who” in 1973 and “Don’t Just Sit There” in 1976. Two of his compositions, “Qua Bossa (Time)” and “Gotta Take Time,” were performed in concert at Carnegie Hall by pianist Tony Zaro. He opened for the Brecker Brothers at The Egg in Albany and had been featured at jazz festivals in Lake George, Clearwater and Sarasota.

Paul played with numerous acclaimed musicians, including Ron Partch, Nick Brignola, Lew Petteys, Bob Massaro and many others. He recorded with numerous jazz musicians, including Jan Eisen, Jody Shayne and Skip Parsons’ Riverboat Jazz Band, as well as with his own trio. In 2016, he was honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award by Swingtime Magazine.

Pianist Rich Skrika passed away in early February. He started on accordion in Perth Amboy, NJ, where he grew up. He first became interested in traditional jazz after listening to radio broadcasts out of New York City. “The ensemble sound is what attracted me to the music in the first place and still is what grabs my attention the most, even now,” he said.

His first piano playing job was intermissions at the Hendrick Hudson Hotel in Troy opposite Carl Lunsford’s jazz band. After hearing Skip Parsons’ Riverboat Jazz Band for the first time, he found that they all shared the same musical interest and gladly accepted Skip’s offer to join the band in 1971, notably at The Fountain in Albany, where the RBJB still plays its monthly gig.

Rich’s work took him to the Detroit area in late 1976, where he spent the next three years, but not away from jazz. After returning to the Albany area, he rejoined the RBJB in late 1980 and remained with Skip for the next eight years. He went off on his own during the ’80s playing with his own band for a while and also with other groups in the area. In early 2006, he and Skip got back together and played together again for a number of years.

Lee Shaw Scholarship Fund

To honor the memory of Lee Shaw, a scholarship will be awarded yearly to a high school senior planning to pursue jazz studies in college. This fund is under the umbrella of the not-for-profit Swingtime Jazz Society. Contributions to this fund can be made payable to SWINGTIME JAZZ SOCIETY and mailed to Patti Melita, Treasurer, PO Box 1906, Schenectady, NY 12301 with "Lee Shaw Scholarship Fund" in the memo line. The Scholarship Committee, chaired by Peg Delaney, has established that the scholarship will be $500, although this could be increased in the future if we receive sufficient donations.

If you know of a high school senior proficient in any instrument, including voice, who is continuing on to jazz music studies in college, please contact Peg for more information (pegjazz1@gmail.com or 518-237-3129).

APFJ Scholarship Fund

Each year APFJ sends a scholarship donation to a music student at Schenectady County Community College. The money comes from the sale of refreshments and CDs at the fall concerts. We have also set up a scholarship account to which people can contribute, in hopes of increasing the amount of the scholarship each year.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the scholarship fund can send us a check, made out to A Place for Jazz, at PO Box 1059, Schenectady NY 12301. We will deposit it in the account and acknowledge your contribution. APFJ is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, so your contributions are tax-deductible.
