James Williams, an exciting group ICU opened the APFJ’s Fall Jazz series on September 17th to a packed house that was on its feet applauding master sax player Billy Pierce, Tony Reedus on drums, John Lockwood on bass.

Mr. Williams on piano and two absolutely marvelous singers Miles Griffiths and Roger Holland. Many people in the audience were new to the area and mentioned they were absolutely astonished to hear Jazz of this quality at such low prices. Already advance ticket sales to the Paradise City Jazz Band concert on October 1 has outstripped advance sales to the James Williams concert. On October 15, Tana Reid led by the world renowned bassist Rufus Reid and the award winning drummer Akira Tana will give local Jazz fans a rare opportunity to hear these contemporary masters of the Jazz scene in New York City. They played to an enthusiastic standing room only crowd in their last visit two years ago.

On October 29 we introduce Papo Vasquez and his pulsating combination of traditional Puerto Rican and Afro-Cuban rhythms called Bomba Jazz. He'll appear in a sextet with the sensational percussionist Milton Cardona and Mario Rivera, the spectacular saxophonist who has often appeared with Tito Puente.

Boston Conference Brings Orgy of Jazz Within Easy Reach

Boston will host the 21st annual conference of the International Association of Jazz Educators from January 13-16, 1993. One of the best kept secrets among lovers of great Jazz, the conference features workshops, concerts and opportunities to learn from the masters and newcomers in Jazz for 20 hours a day.

A Place for Jazz will be organizing a trip to Boston to participate in the these delights. If interested contact Butch at 374-6912. We'll seek low cost ways for you to participate.

The Art of Song

Anne and I are going to New Paltz on October 16 to attend a 'Lieder recital' presented by Sheila Jordan and Harvey Swartz (bass), names not unfamiliar to the audiences of "A Place for Jazz".*

When I used the phrase 'Leider recital' to a musical purist friend, he bristled at, I presume, my looseness of language. Likely, his usage is confined to such performances as Fischer-Dieskau accompanied by Gerald Moore (pno) singing Schubert. Both music and its performances are absolutely sublime.

But the art of 'Lieder', or song, is attainment of that perfect fusion of words, music, quality technical performance; and above all the melding and transmutation of performance skills and emotional expression to create a joint artifact which is that physical impossibility - 'greater than the sum of its parts'. It's magic.

To me, at least, it matters little whether the creators of the music are Schubert or Strayhorn; Hugo Wolf or Alec Wilder.

The technical and artistic challenges to the performers are equally demanding; and between the two genres, at least to the singer, not interchangeable. (Although Keith Jarrett plays Schostakovich and Bartok beautifully.

There is more to be written; after our attendance at the Jordan/Schwartz 'Leider recital'.

* The duo appeared at APFJ in our third season.

Local Jazz; Great Quality, Low Prices Part II

In our last two columns, we talked about the wonderful musicians that live and work in this area. We listed over 100 that were on our mailing list. At the end we said, "If we missed any let us know."

Well we did and Paul Supple let me know. For one thing we left Paul off the list. Paul was the first Trumpet player in Doc Scanlon's Rhythm Boys and now leads the group Jazz Factor with John Deignan, Dick Johnson, Rick Eckberg and Scott Weinhold.

Paul took umbrage at my omission of a lot of other local musicians. He listed names that we'd left off the list. Those names appear at the end of the column.

After reading his letter, we called him and talked about it. As we talked it dawned on us that there needed to be another column with a sub-title Musicians. Part of the problem or part of the solution!

It was great hearing from Paul. He took time to write and to add to our knowledge. He also supports A Place for Jazz with a membership and feeds us information about the local scene. Unfortunately he is part of a very exclusive club: Musicians who support other musicians and their local Jazz service organization.

Of the over 100 musicians on our list, very few do either. Given the fact that Jazz is poorly publicized in the area, we need to hear from musicians about where they're playing. (Our deadlines are the 10th of every odd month)

What's even worse is that we see very few working musicians at APFJ's concerts or at the local clubs and other venues.

This is confusing. Why would musicians not support the very music that they complain is not being supported very well? Why would musicians who love Jazz, spend countless hours practicing and hundreds of dollars on CDs, tapes, etc. not come out to hear the real thing? (our prejudice, if you haven't guessed it is that live music is the real thing.) Hey folks, if musicians don't support live Jazz, who will?

We expect to get lots of letters on this one.

Trading Fours

Glad to hear that Nick Brignola is up and about after a recent illness.

Really excited about Bill Meckley's work with the Empire Jazz Orchestra. On November 23rd he'll be doing an all Ellington/Strayhorn Concert at the Schenectady Community College. Call 346-1456.

Lee Shaw will teach a workshop on listening to Jazz at the Schenectady Museum. It begins October 12 and continues for the next 13 Tuesdays. Call 382-7890 for further info.

More Musicians (thanks to Paul Supple)

If I missed any, let me know!
TANAREID
Friday, October 15, 8pm

This exciting quintet led by Akira Tana and Rufus Reid make a return visit to A Place for Jazz, by popular demand.

Reid and Tana are widely recognized as top musicians on their instruments by the public and their peers and their students. Lesser known but gaining in reputation are the “witty and elegant” Rob Schneiderman on piano, the facile and creative Craig Bailey on alto and the 22 year old “wunderkind” Dan Faulk on soprano and tenor saxophone.

You can preview this concert by listening to their new album, Passing Thoughts.

PAPO VASQUEZ
SEXTET Friday, October 29, 8pm

Mr. Vasquez, an experienced veteran (at 32) of the bands of Tito Puente, Ruben Blades, Eddie Palmieri and Dizzy Gillespie, combines traditional rhythms from Puerto Rico with the freer harmonic and melodic elements of Jazz. He calls it BombaJazz. He’s done arrangements for Manny Oquendo’s Libre, the Fort Apache Band, Hilton Ruiz and appears on the movie soundtracks of The Mambo Kings and Spike Lee’s Mo’ Better Blues.

Preview this concert by listening to his recording “Breakout” which combines both the music of Puerto Rican and Afro-Cuban traditions and modern Jazz.

EMPIRE JAZZ ORCHESTRA (Octet)
Friday, November 12, 8pm

Last year this fine group of musicians performed a special one hour afternoon concert for families performed under the direction of Bill Meckley. The group’s eight piece nucleus taken out of their big band was so popular that many of you demanded a full-fledged evening concert so that everyone could hear the little big-band arrangements of the Jazz Masters. We promise you an evening of surprise and excitement as you hear eight of the finest musicians (Leo Russo, Jim Corigliano, Nat Phipps, John Hines, Ken Olsen, Tom Gerbino, Ken Olsen, Otto Gardner and Rob Cenci) explore our Jazz heritage from Jelly Roll to Diz!

CONCERTS are on Friday nights at 8:00 pm at the First Unitarian Society in Schenectady. Tickets are $12.50 each. Children under 12 are admitted for half price (at the door). Series tickets are $50.00 -- a 20% discount! (good until 9/3) Season ticket holders and members may reserve additional tickets in advance at reduced prices. For more information, call (518) 374-6912.
